Announcements for February 13

- We are going to start talking about functions. For Friday read Sections 6.1 to 6.3. For Monday read the rest of Chapter 6.
- Here: http://fivethirtyeight.com/features/the-queen-of-code/ is a fun 15-minute video about Grace Hopper, who was one of the first programmers and the inventor of the language COBOL. You don’t need to watch it, but if you are interested in the history of computers or the roles of women in computing, or the roles of women in the mid-twentieth century, you may find it informative.
