To use handin:

A. You need to get the code onto occs. If you did the coding on your own machine, mail it to yourself.
B. Log into one of the lab machines. Bring up a browser (I think Chromium works best); log into your gmail account and download the code into a folder called "Lab1".
C. Go to the folder containing Lab1l (if you run command ls you should see Lab1 as an item). Run the handin program.

      That will ask for the class; your answer should be 275

      It will ask for the assignment; your answer should be 1

      It will ask for the file/directory; you're answer should be Lab1
